Application

Products suitable for various liquids, can be customized

One machine meets the needs of various products, and products of different shapes can be customized

Product Advantages

- 1. Minimized Material Loss: The machine employs automatic alarm protection functions to detect and rectify issues promptly, reducing material waste and optimizing production efficiency.
- 2. Global Compliance: With CE certification and adherence to international quality standards, the machine meets regulatory requirements, facilitating smooth operations and market access across various countries.
- 3. Multilingual Interface: The optional display in different languages, including English, simplifies operations for a diverse workforce, enhancing communication and productivity.
- 4. Adaptable Bag-Making Equipment: The machine can be tailored to specific customer and product needs, ensuring flexibility and versatility in packaging designs.
- 5. Reduced Labor Costs: The machine's automated processes and fault-sensing system significantly reduce the need for constant supervision, translating to lower labor expenses.
- 6. High-Sensitivity Photoelectric Tracing: The advanced photoelectric color tracing system ensures an accurate cutting position, resulting in precise and consistent bag sizes for a polished presentation.
- 7. Sustainable Design: The stainless steel construction, coupled with the machine's energy-efficient operation, contributes to sustainability by minimizing resource consumption and waste generation.
- 8. Rapid Bag Size Adjustments: The packaging speed and bag lengths can be adjusted with ease, allowing for quick changes in production without requiring extensive recalibration.
